Cubs, please remember that use of technology, cell phones in particular, is a privilege, not a right. It is important to be respectful to others in all ways in the use of technology:

- Only use your cell phone if you have specific approval by an adult to do so.
- Never use technology to victimize, make fun of, or harass others.
- It is never OK to take video and or pictures and then post them without the express consent of those who you are in the picture.
- Cell phones should never be out when in school restrooms.
- Never send or post anything that you do not want your parent/guardian, teacher, or administrator to see. Remember, everything that is sent is recoverable if necessary.
- Things that happen on cell phones outside of the school day become school business if they cause any kind of school disruption.
- If any adult asks you to turn over your technology, you are expected to do so without argument.
- Violations of any of the above may lead to loss of cell phone use and/or suspension of the student.

Please exercise Cub Pride in all that you do, including the use of technology.

SpeakOut permission slips are due tomorrow, Feb. 13. Please turn them into the office.
